An institution is listed in this directory only once under the State in which it is located. Arrangement of the data shown is uniform as follows:

For institutions organized as universities:

Name of institution, location (accrediting, control, student body).

Names of officers as follows:

President.

Chief business officer—comptroller, treasurer, bursar, etc.

Admissions officer—registrar, recorder, secretary, etc.

Dean of men.

Dean of women.

Dean of arts and science college.

Professional schools—deans or directors in charge.

*School is accredited by its professional association.[1]

Summer session—dean or director.

For colleges of arts and sciences, independent professional schools, and teachers colleges:

All data as above, except those relating to professional schools.

For normal schools and junior colleges:

Name of institution, location, etc.

Name of president, dean, or director.

Summer session—dean or director.

[1] Some universities maintain accredited departments which are the equivalent of schools in other universities, but such departments are not listed unless they are separately organized, with a dean or director in charge.

CLASSIFICATION OF INSTITUTIONS

Institutions are classified according to their offerings into six types:

1. College or university offering liberal arts; 4-year; degree-granting.
2. Professional or technological school—independently controlled.
3. Teachers college; 4-year; degree-granting.
4. Normal school; 2- or 3-year; does not grant degrees.
5. Negro institutions of all types.
6. Junior college; 2-year; does not grant degrees.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

In parentheses immediately following the name and location of an institution, the abbreviations indicate three facts separated by semicolons:

1. The accrediting of the institution by one or more of the national or regional accrediting associations.
2. The control of the institution whether public, private, or denominational.
3. The STUDENT-BODY:
   Coed.—Coeducational—for both men and women.

ACCREDITING

Colleges and Universities

Colleges and universities are accredited by seven national or regional accrediting associations. These associations are indicated throughout this directory by the following abbreviations:

A, Association of American Universities—a national accrediting association.
E, New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
I, National Association for Intern Teacher Education.
M, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
N, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
S, Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
T, American Association of Teachers Colleges—national.
W, Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools—regional.
†—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is rated in class B.
‡—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is provisionally accredited, or accredited with some reservation, or is admitted on probation.

Information on the accrediting or approval of colleges and universities by State departments of education or State universities is not given in this directory, but may be found in U. S. Office of Education Bulletin 1938, No. 16, entitled "Accredited Higher Institutions," and in supplements thereto.

Professional Schools

Professional schools are accredited by a separate group of associations. Some of the associations listed below do not accredit the schools, but admission to membership, for which definite requirements are set up, itself constitutes approval by the association.

Architecture—Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture.
Business—American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.

Dentistry—Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association. Ratings temporarily discontinued.
Engineering—Engineers' Council for Professional Development.[2]
Forestry—Society of American Foresters.
Journalism—American Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism.

HIGHER INSTITUTIONS INCLUDED IN THIS DIRECTORY

A. UNIVERSITIES, COLLEGES, AND TEACHERS COLLEGES:

Higher institutions that are not accredited by one or more of the agencies listed under A–1 (below) are required to submit evidence that their work is accepted at full value by institutions that are so accredited

1. Accredited by the following agencies:
   (a) Association of American Universities.
   (b) American Association of Teachers Colleges.
   (c) Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
   (d) North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
   (e) Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools.

[2] Accrediting by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development is for individual undergraduate curricula. Some institutions have accredited curricula in a number of engineering departments, but as departments in the various subject-fields are not listed in the directory, the symbol * means that the institution to which it is affixed has one or more accredited engineering curricula. The complete list of engineering curricula accredited by the council is contained in the Tenth Annual Report of the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, October 1942.

[3] The National League of Nursing Education in 1941 issued a list of accredited nursing schools, and the symbol used in connection with nursing education in this issue of the directory refers to accrediting by that organization. The indication of the nursing schools which are members of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Nursing is discontinued.

(f) Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
(g) State universities and State departments of education.

2. All State-supported institutions.
3. Four-year institutions which are not accredited by any agency but which enroll 100 or more resident college students in regular session and graduate at least 10 students annually.

B. INDEPENDENT PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNOLOGICAL SCHOOLS:

1. Accredited by professional associations or approved by State universities or State departments of education.
2. Not accredited by any agency but which enroll 25 or more resident students of college grade in regular session and graduate at least 5 students annually.

C. JUNIOR COLLEGES AND NORMAL SCHOOLS:

1. Accredited by the agencies listed under A–1 (above).
2. Not accredited by any agency but which—
   (a) require high-school graduation for entrance;
   (b) Offer 2 years of work of college grade;
   (c) enroll 50 or more resident students of college grade in regular session.

[1] These figures will not agree with the number of urban places of 2,500 population and more as shown by the U. S. Census because where two urban areas use 1 school system jointly, population classification is given in this directory for the name of the city by which the school system is known.

CITY SCHOOL OFFICERS

CONTENTS

	Page
1. Principal School Officers in Cities and Other Urban Places	1
2. Superintendents of Catholic Parochial Schools	59

1. PRINCIPAL SCHOOL OFFICERS IN CITIES AND OTHER URBAN PLACES OF 2,500 POPULATION AND MORE[1]

[Explanation: Listing is by State, urban community, population for the city or area served by the school system where obtainable (census of 1940), and those persons reported to be filling the positions of superintendents, business managers (B. M.), and research directors (R. D.), regardless of local titles. Information for this section of the Educational Directory is collected by postal card. In September a card is sent to the superintendent of schools of each city with a population of 2,500 or more, as listed in the U. S. Census for 1940, requesting that changes in chief school officers be noted and the card returned at once. If the card is not returned previous listings are used.]

Institutions added	107
Institutions dropped	107
Institutions reclassified	109
Institutions listed under new names	110
Index	112

An institution is listed in this directory only once under the State in which it is located. Arrangement of the data shown is uniform as follows:

For institutions organized as universities:
- Name of institution, location (accreditation, control, student body).
- Names of officers as follows:
  - President.
  - Chief business officer—comptroller, treasurer, bursar, etc.
  - Admissions officer—registrar, recorder, secretary, etc.
  - Dean of men.
  - Dean of women.
    - Arts and science college—dean.
    - Professional schools[1]—deans or directors.
      - Summer session—dean or director.

[1] Some universities maintain accredited departments which are the equivalent of schools in other universities, but such departments are not listed unless they are separately organized, with a dean or director in charge.

For independent colleges of arts and sciences, professional schools, and teachers colleges:

All data as above, except those relating to professional schools.

For normal schools and junior colleges:

Name of institution, location, etc.

Name of president, dean, or director.

Summer session—dean or director.

CLASSIFICATION OF INSTITUTIONS

Institutions are classified according to their offerings into six types:

1. College or university offering liberal arts; 4-year; degree-granting.
2. Professional or technological school—independently controlled.
3. Teachers college; 4-year; degree-granting.
4. Normal school; 2- or 3-year; does not grant degrees.
5. Negro institutions of all types.
6. Junior college; 2-year; does not grant degrees.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

In parentheses immediately following the name and location of an institution, the abbreviations indicate three facts separated by semicolons:

1. Accrediation of the institution by one or more of the national or regional accrediting associations.
2. Control of the institution whether public, private, or denominational.
3. The STUDENT-BODY:

ACCREDITATION

Colleges and Universities

Colleges and universities are accredited by seven national or regional accrediting associations. These associations are indicated throughout this directory by the following abbreviations:

A, Association of American Universities—a national accrediting association.
E, New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
M, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
N, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
S, Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
T, American Association of Teachers Colleges—national.
W, Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools—regional.
†—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is rated in class B.
‡—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is provisionally accredited, or accredited with some reservation, or is admitted on probation.

A dash (—), instead of any of the above symbols, indicates that the institution is not accredited by any national or regional accrediting association.

The accreditation or approval of colleges and universities by State departments of education or State universities is not shown in this directory, but may be found in U. S. Office of Education Bulletin 1938, No. 16, entitled "Accredited Higher Institutions," and in supplements thereto.

Professional Schools

Professional schools are accredited by a separate group of associations. The symbol * denotes that a professional school is accredited by or is a member of its professional organization.

Architecture—Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture.
Business—American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.
Dentistry—Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association. Ratings temporarily discontinued.
Engineering—Engineers' Council for Professional Development.[2]

HIGHER INSTITUTIONS INCLUDED IN THIS DIRECTORY

Institutions included in the directory under A–3, B–2, and C–2 (below) are required to submit evidence that their work is accepted at full value by institutions accredited by agencies listed under A–1, B–1, or C–1.

[2] Accreditation by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development is for individual undergraduate curricula. Some institutions have accredited curricula in a number of engineering fields, but as departments in the various subject-fields are not listed in the directory, the symbol means that the institution to which it is affixed has one or more accredited engineering curricula. The complete list of engineering curricula accredited by the council is contained in the Eleventh Annual Report of the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, September 30, 1943.

[3] The National League of Nursing Education has issued a list of accredited nursing schools. Only those schools which are divisions of colleges and universities are listed in the Educational Directory.

A. UNIVERSITIES, COLLEGES, AND TEACHERS COLLEGES:

1. Accredited by the following agencies:
   (a) Association of American Universities.
   (b) American Association of Teachers Colleges.
   (c) Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
   (d) North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
   (e) Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools.
   (f) Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
   (g) State universities and State departments of education.
2. All State-supported institutions.
3. Four-year institutions which are not accredited by any agency but which enroll 100 or more resident college students in regular session and graduate at least 10 students annually.

B. INDEPENDENT PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNOLOGICAL SCHOOLS:

1. Accredited by professional associations or approved by State universities or State departments of education.
2. Not accredited by any agency but which enroll 25 or more resident students of college grade in regular session and graduate at least 5 students annually.

C. JUNIOR COLLEGES AND NORMAL SCHOOLS:

1. Accredited by the agencies listed under A–1 (above).
2. Not accredited by any agency but which—
   (a) require high-school graduation for entrance;
   (b) offer 2 years of work of college grade;
   (c) enroll 50 or more resident students of college grade in regular session.

[1] These figures will not agree with the number of urban places of 2,500 population or more as shown by the U. S. Census because where 2 urban areas use 1 school system jointly, population classification is given in this directory for the name of the city by which the school system is known.

CITY SCHOOL OFFICERS

	Page
1. Principal School Officers in Cities and Other Urban Places	1
2. Superintendents of Catholic Parochial Schools	60

1. PRINCIPAL SCHOOL OFFICERS IN CITIES AND OTHER URBAN PLACES OF 2,500 POPULATION AND MORE[1]

[Explanation: Listing is by State, urban community, population for the city or area served by the school system where obtainable (census of 1940), and those persons reported to be filling the positions of superintendents, business managers (B. M.), and research directors (R. D.), regardless of local titles. Information for this section of the Educational Directory is collected by postal card. In September a card is sent to the superintendent of schools of each city with a population of 2,500 or more, as listed in the U. S. Census for 1940, requesting that changes in chief school officers be noted and the card returned at once. If the card is not returned previous listings are used.]

[1] In a few States the schools in all cities are under the supervision of the local county superintendent, and in several other States some of the cities have this administrative arrangement. As part I of the Educational Directory (State and County School Officers) is not compiled by the U. S. Office of Education until after the November elections, the listings therein of county superintendents invariably show some changes over part II which is compiled in October.

An institution is listed in this directory only once under the State in which it is located. Arrangement of the data shown is uniform as follows:

For institutions organized as universities:
- Name of institution, location (accreditation, control, student body).
- Names of officers as follows:
  - President.
  - Chief business officer—comptroller, treasurer, bursar, etc.
  - Admissions officer—registrar, recorder, secretary, etc.
  - Dean of men.
  - Dean of women.
    - Arts and science college—dean.
    - Professional schools [1]—deans or directors.
      - Summer session—dean or director.

[1] Some universities maintain accredited departments which are the equivalent of schools in other universities, but such departments are not listed unless they are separately organized, with a dean or director in charge.

For independent colleges of arts and sciences, professional schools, and teachers colleges:

All data as above, except those relating to professional schools.

For normal schools and junior colleges:

Name of institution, location, etc.

Name of president, dean, or director.

Summer session—dean or director.

CLASSIFICATION OF INSTITUTIONS

Institutions are classified according to their offerings into six types:

1. College or university offering liberal arts; 4-year; degree-granting.
2. Professional or technological school—independently controlled.
3. Teachers college; 4-year; degree-granting.
4. Normal school; 2- or 3-year; does not grant degrees.
5. Negro institutions of all types.
6. Junior college; 2-year; does not grant degrees.

ABBREVIATIONS AND SYMBOLS

In parentheses immediately following the name and location of an institution, the abbreviations indicate three facts separated by semicolons:

ACCREDITATION

Colleges and Universities

Colleges and universities are accredited by seven national or regional accrediting associations. These associations are indicated throughout this directory by the following abbreviations:

A, Association of American Universities—a national accrediting association.
E, New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
M, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
N, North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
S, Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools—regional.
T, American Association of Teachers Colleges—national.
W, Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools—regional.
†—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is rated in class B.
‡—Preceding any of the above letters indicates that the institution is provisionally accredited, or accredited with some reservation, or is admitted on probation.

A dash (—), instead of any of the above symbols, indicates that the institution is not accredited by any national or regional accrediting association.

The accreditation or approval of colleges and universities by State departments of education or State universities is not shown in this directory, but may be found in U. S. Office of Education Bulletin 1944, No. 3, entitled "Accredited Higher Institutions."

Professional Schools

Professional schools are accredited by a separate group of associations. The symbol * denotes that a professional school is accredited by or is a member of its professional organization.

Architecture—Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture.
Business—American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business.
Chemistry—American Chemical Society.
Dentistry—Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association. Ratings temporarily discontinued.

HIGHER INSTITUTIONS INCLUDED IN THIS DIRECTORY

Institutions included in the directory under A–3, B–2, and C–2 (below) are required to submit evidence that their work is accepted at full value by institutions accredited by agencies listed under A–1, B–1, or C–1.

[2] Accreditation by the Engineers' Council for Professional Development is for individual undergraduate curricula. Some institutions have accredited curricula in a number of engineering fields, but as departments in the various subject-fields are not listed in the directory, the symbol means that the institution to which it is affixed has one or more accredited engineering curricula. The complete list of engineering curricula accredited by the council is contained in the Twelfth Annual Report of the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, September 30, 1944.

[3] The National League of Nursing Education has issued a list of accredited nursing schools. Only those schools which are divisions of colleges and universities are listed in the Educational Directory.

A. UNIVERSITIES, COLLEGES, AND TEACHERS COLLEGES:

1. Accredited by the following agencies:
   (a) Association of American Universities.
   (b) American Association of Teachers Colleges.
   (c) Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
   (d) North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
   (e) Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools.
   (f) Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.
   (g) State universities and State departments of education.
2. All State-supported institutions.
3. Four-year institutions which are not accredited by any agency but which enroll 100 or more resident college students in regular session and graduate at least 10 students annually.

B. INDEPENDENT PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNOLOGICAL SCHOOLS:

1. Accredited by professional associations or approved by State universities or State departments of education.
2. Not accredited by any agency but which enroll 25 or more resident students of college grade in regular session and graduate at least 5 students annually.

C. JUNIOR COLLEGES AND NORMAL SCHOOLS:

1. Accredited by the agencies listed under A–1 (above).
2. Not accredited by any agency but which—
   (a) require high-school graduation for entrance;
   (b) offer 2 years of work of college grade;
   (c) enroll 50 or more resident students of college grade in regular session.
